SPECTACLES Vs. BLINDNESS.

Vision is justly described as the most important of our senses, and its loss is regarded as one of the greatest afflictions to which mankind is aubject. It is, therefore, of paramount importance that we should carefully use our sight whilst perfect, and that when, unfortunately, the help of Spectacles is felt to be necessary, the atmost care should be taken in the selection of them. The late eminent Oculist, Dr. Soelberg Wells, testified that he had no hesitation in stating that the haphazard plan of selecting Spectacles-employed by some Opticians—was frequently attended by serious consequences; that eyes were often permanently injured, which might, by skilfu adaptation of glasses, have been preserved

However much charity and brotherly love may be enjoined upon the members of the Board-after the manner of Mr Stewart-Lockhart, who sought to pour oil on the troubled waters-it cannot be forgotten that the Health Bill was engineered, framed in great measure, and forced into law by the Surveyor General. Of (course, the motives of Mr Price may be as pure as those of any patriot who ever breathed; but the fact remains that he fought successfully against the feeling of the whole community, and, with the assistance of H. E. Administrator Cameron won the victory, such as it was, against the public. This consideration, naturally enough, must govern the discussions and action of the independent members of the Board; and, even in the case of cessful. the official nominees of that body, the instruction of the Secretary of State, to exercise discretion and forbearance in carrying out this law, must have a certain influence. Well, it is now a considerable time since the Drainage Bylaws drafted by Messrs Price, Humplareys, and Ede were decided to be so confusing that a reference to the Attorney General was considered ne-Per Duke of Buckingham, at 11.30 a.m., | cessary. These by-laws having been patched up at the suggestion of the Law Officer of the Crown-it was not his business, be it remembered, to make them workable—they were again submitted to the Board. At the meeting held yesterday fortnight it became apparent that they were not all that they ought to be, as the confusion was still as manifest as ever, and Mr Francis offered (or 'volunteered,' as Mr Humphreys puts it) to prepare a new set of By-laws on the basis of those already drafted, if the Board would adjourn for a fortnight. The Board agreed to this, and passed the motion for adjournment and although not one word was said, either in the motion or in the minutes of | weak-minded. the meeting, about the new draft of the By-laws promised by Mr Francis, the Board was clearly adjourned on account of the offer made by the learned Queen's Counsellor, and to give him time to fulfil his promise. The sub-committee for drafting these By-laws under the Ordinance -- whose efforts, although laborious and perhaps well-meaning, had not met with the success or approbation that was expected-was composed, as we have said, of Messrs Price, Ede, and Humphreys; and the manner 3 p.m.—Occidental & Oriental S. In spite of this, however, Mr Humphreys stood while Mr Ede said nothing, and Mr 7.50 Price revolved in his mind the best means of diplomatising. Mr Francis having given an able sketch of the scope and intentions of the By-laws he had drafted, explained the position with a force and clearness which is neculiarly his own, and finished up with the motion (afterwards withdrawn) that the Committee's draft By-laws be rejected altogether. Here the atmosphere was beginning to feel rather warm, and not quite so sanitary as it ought to be. About 30 li west of Peking is a charming range of hills called Sze P'ing P'ai, where are eight Buddhist temples. Foreign ladies and gentlemen make this a summer retreat from Peking. A certain foreign Minister who was staying at the temple of San Shan An'rh was completely robbed of his money and effects one night last month, and though the authorities were informed, we have not heard that the thieves have been caught yet.

THE embittored feeling existing between the Japanese and the Chinese in this city, says the Sa. Francisco Chronicle of the 4th instant, culminated in a bloody battle in China-town last night, which resulted in a score of Chinese being badly beaten and an officer narrowly escaping with his life, Tho fracas was the result of the arrest on Saturday night of two Japs who assaulted a Chinese merchant on Clay street. The two men were released on bail yesterday, and last night they, in company with a dozen or more of their friends, congregated on Waverley place and entered one of the stores on that street. As soon as they entered the place the Japanese crowd began a terrific assault on the proprietor and his two clerks, beating them badly. The latter set up a cry for assistance and soon the place was filled with Chinese. The battle was an uneven one, and the Chinese soon left the place in possession of the aggressors. . After doing considerable damage to the place, the Japanese left, and next entered a Chinese barber-shop further up the alley, near Clay street. One of the Japs seized a razor, and grabbing one of the tonsorial artists endeavored to cut off his pigtail. The owner of the queue broke away and blew a policewhistle. Officer Gould, who was in the vicinity, ran into the place and made an attempt to arrest two of the belligerents. A desperate scuffle ensued, in which the officer was knocked down and his clothes nearly torn off. He managed, however, to slip the handcuffs on two of the men, during which time the others ran away. The two Japs were taken to the city prison and charged with battery. They gave their names as B. Sanluki and F. Eurrin. It is feared that trouble will ensue, as the feeling between the two races is growing in

LATE NEWS BY THE GERMAN MAIL.

THE EUROPEAN SITUATION. Paris, Aug. 6 .- The Figure publishes, under reserve, a despatch from Berlin which purports to give the practical result of the Emperor of Germany's recent visit to St. Petersburg. If the information were to prove correct, it would be of the highest importance, and it is, at any rate, interesting, as it is one of very numerous signs of the uneasiness felt in France relative to the position of the Republic, which it is felt has been modified to its disadvantage by the renewal of more cordial relations between Gormany and Russia. The Figure telegram is as follows :— Berlin, August 5. - Another theatrical surprise is being prepared, and it would seem that we are now about to learn the results of the Poterhoff interview and of the voyage of William II, to the Court of the North. The Chancellor of the Empire has just informed the Cabinets of Vienna and Rome that an understanding has been come to between Russia and Germany. That understanding is, it appears, founded on such bases that it must necessarily have an influence on the relations of Austria and Russia. It would appear that understanding is based on the settlement of the Eastern Question in conformity with the wishes of Russia and on a coasiderable reduction in the Custom Tariffs of the German and Russian Empires. It is said the protocols on these two questions were drafted during the stay of the German Emperor at Peterhoff. The Chereelleres are at the present time elaborating the definitive text of the diplomatic documents which the Sovereigns are, it is affirmed, to sign at an interview to take place at the end of the month of August. The So vereigns of Austria and Italy, and perhaps also other Sovereigns, will countersign this i arrangement, which is considered by those who surround Prince Bismarck as the consecration of the pacific policy of Germany. The France has also received a telegram from its special Correspondent at St. Peters. burg, who says the interview between the Emperor of Germany and the Clear may be summed up without any circumlecttion in the following three questions and answers William H : 'Are you bound by any agreement with France? Czer No. William II.: 'In the case of France being disturbing agent in Germany or elsewhere and of her thus letting loose the dogs of war. would you intervene in her fav our ! Czar 'No.'-William II.; 'Would you be dis posed to guarantee the Treaty of Franciscon as you are accustomed to do for all Treaties! - Czar : 'Yes.'

Constantinaple, 5th Aug. -The Turkish Ambassador at St. Pereraburg lately toicgraphed to the Porte to the effect that at an interview with M. de Giers the latter suggested that he should strongly urge his Government to take advantage of the illegal seizare of the junction of the lines of real way to regain, by military action, possession of Eastern Rommelia. The Russian Minis ter added that such a favourable opportunity might not again occur. Tois advice, as might have been expected, has fallen on deaf ears. Although deficient in many qualities, especially administrative on s, the Turks, as diplomatists, have little to learn from their Russian rivals, and, therefore, they politely avoid the true which they are no obligingly mysted to outer.

In conversation this moraing with a pr minent Bulgarian Diplomated, the late treated with scorn this last move of offic-Russia. He expressed the being that the suggestion had been made by M. de Grees. with the knowledge beforehand that Turkey would never entertain it for on moment. With regard to the reports as to Prince Waldemar replacing Prince Ferdinand at Solia, he treated them just as lightly, remarking that the Bulgarians were not in the habit of changing their Princes as individuals change their linear He spoke derisively of Prince Waldemar having appealed for advice to his father when the Bulgarian Throne was at one time offered him -a childlike act which had provoked general amasement among the people. Prince Ferdinand has been elected by the people, and not having done anything to farleit the confidence reposed in him will remain in his present position so long at least as he chooses to fill it.

THE FISHERIES TREATY. New York, Aug. 3 .- The newspapers here treat the Anglo-American Fisheries Treaty chiefly as a matter of domestic politics, with a merely incidental reference to its merits or hearings upon the fisheries and upon friendly relations with England. Yesterday cupied by Dr. Rocens, Mr Riddleberger talked glibly in the Senate of war; to-day the Administration Press diamiss his speech in an obscure paragraph the Opposition Editors give much prominence to it, and argue that President Cleveland is unfit to be re-elected. The public pay no more attention to all this than a matter of such remote and indirect interest deserves. It is impossible that the Treaty should be ratified unless it is so amended as to become a different document. The proceedings of the Senate, therefore, deserve no attention.

New York, Aug. 6.-The talk is again revived of enforcing a system of non-intercourse with Canada in retaliation for the fisheries controversy. The report is probably started in order to bring pressure upon the Senate to confirm the Treaty. singular thing now is that the Republican journals, which were the loudest in condemnation of President Cleveland's resert to diplomacy, and of his slowness in enforcing a retaliatory law, are now most fearful lest he should act on their advice. It would be his most effective answer to the charge that he is influenced by British sympathics. But such a step would alienate a large class of voters, and would also injure American interests scarcely less than Canadian. For this the Republicans, and not President Cleveland, would be held respon-Nothing in General Cleveland's career or in the present situation warrants the opinion that the President is actuated in a matter so important by motives so small as the exigencies of domestic politics.
